DISCIPLINE POLICY AGREEMENT

Discipline is the process of teaching self-control. Children need appropriate forms of discipline in order to become responsible adults. La Familia does not consider physical punishment to be an appropriate form of discipline. Discipline should always be fair, reasonable, consistent and age appropriate.

In compliance with the New Mexico Standards and Guidelines for Child-Placement Agencies, it is La Familia's policy that physical punishment must not be used with any child placed in an adoptive placement prior to the finalization of the adoption.

Failure to abide by this policy could result in the following:

1. Removal of the child from the home
2. A report of abuse and an investigation by the Child Protective Services.

I/We have read and understand the above discipline policy and agree to abide by this policy.
